1. Project Snapshot:

- Employee self – Service
- Leave & attendance
- HR requests
- Employee documents
- Approval workflows
- Notifications

2. Business Scenario:

An organisation wants to reduce employee dependency on HR teams for routine activities by providing a centralised self-service platform.

3. Employee Journey:

Login → Employee Dashboard → Select HR Service → Submit Request → Manager Approval
→ HR Processing → Employee Notification

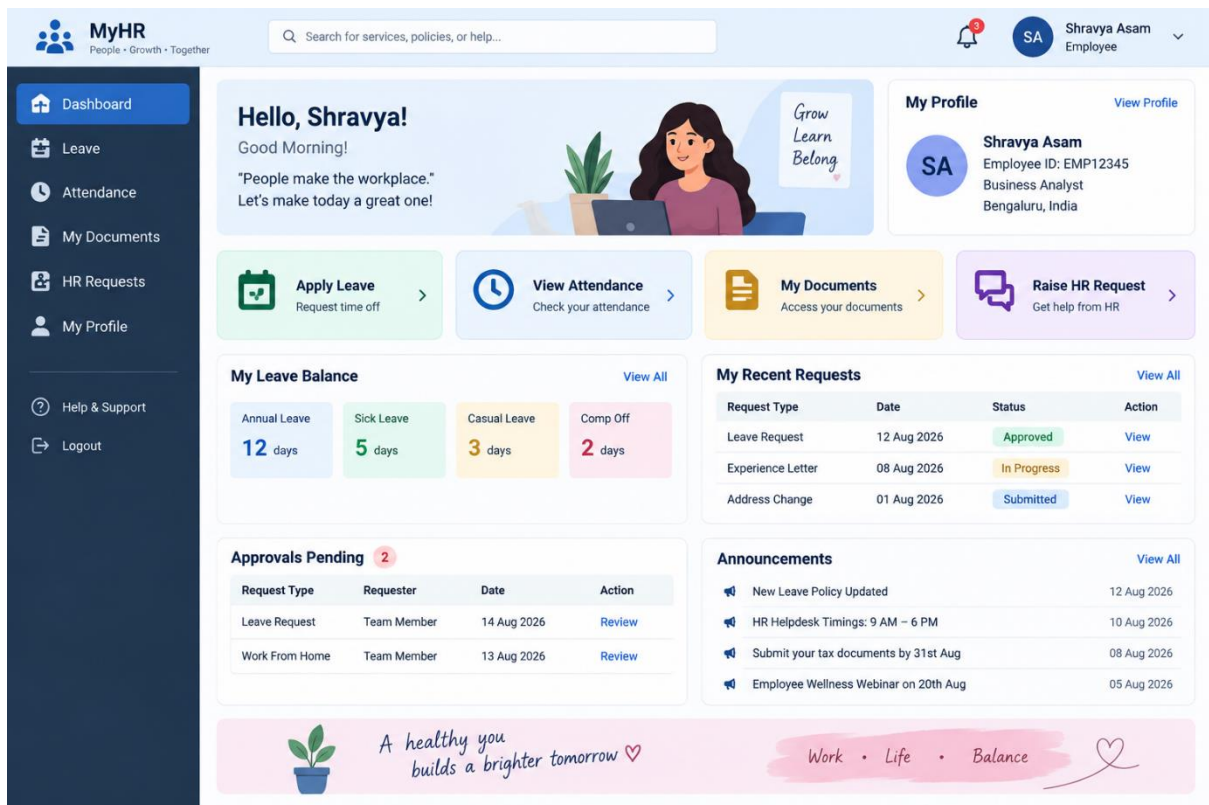

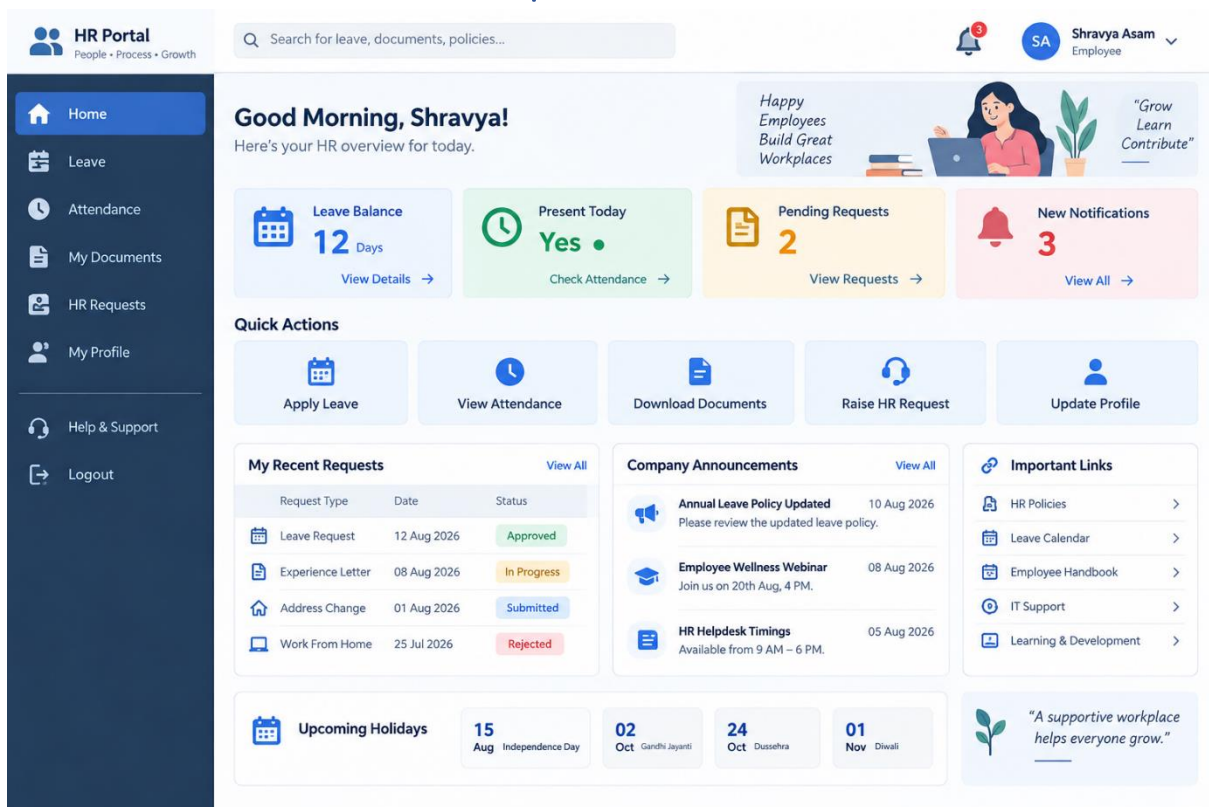

4. As-Is State & Pain Points:

- Employees depend on HR for routine requests.
- Requests are handled through multiple channels.
- Limited visibility into request status.
- Manual follow-ups increase HR workload.

5. Feature Prioritisation:

Feature	Priority
Leave Request	Must Have
Employee	Must have
Attendance View	Must Have
HR Service Request	Should Have
Employee Feedback	Could Have

7. User Stories & Acceptance Criteria:

US-001 — Apply Leave

User Story:

As an employee, I want to submit a leave request through the HR portal so that I can request time off without contacting HR.

Acceptance Criteria:

- Employee can select leave type and dates.
- System calculates the requested days.
- Employee can submit the request.
- Request is routed to the appropriate approver.
- Employee can view the request status.

US-002 — View Attendance

User Story:

As an employee, I want to view my attendance records so that I can track my working days and attendance status.

Acceptance Criteria:

- Employee can select a month.
- Attendance status is displayed by date.
- Leave/absence information is shown.
- Employee can view the monthly attendance summary.

US-003 — Raise HR Service Request

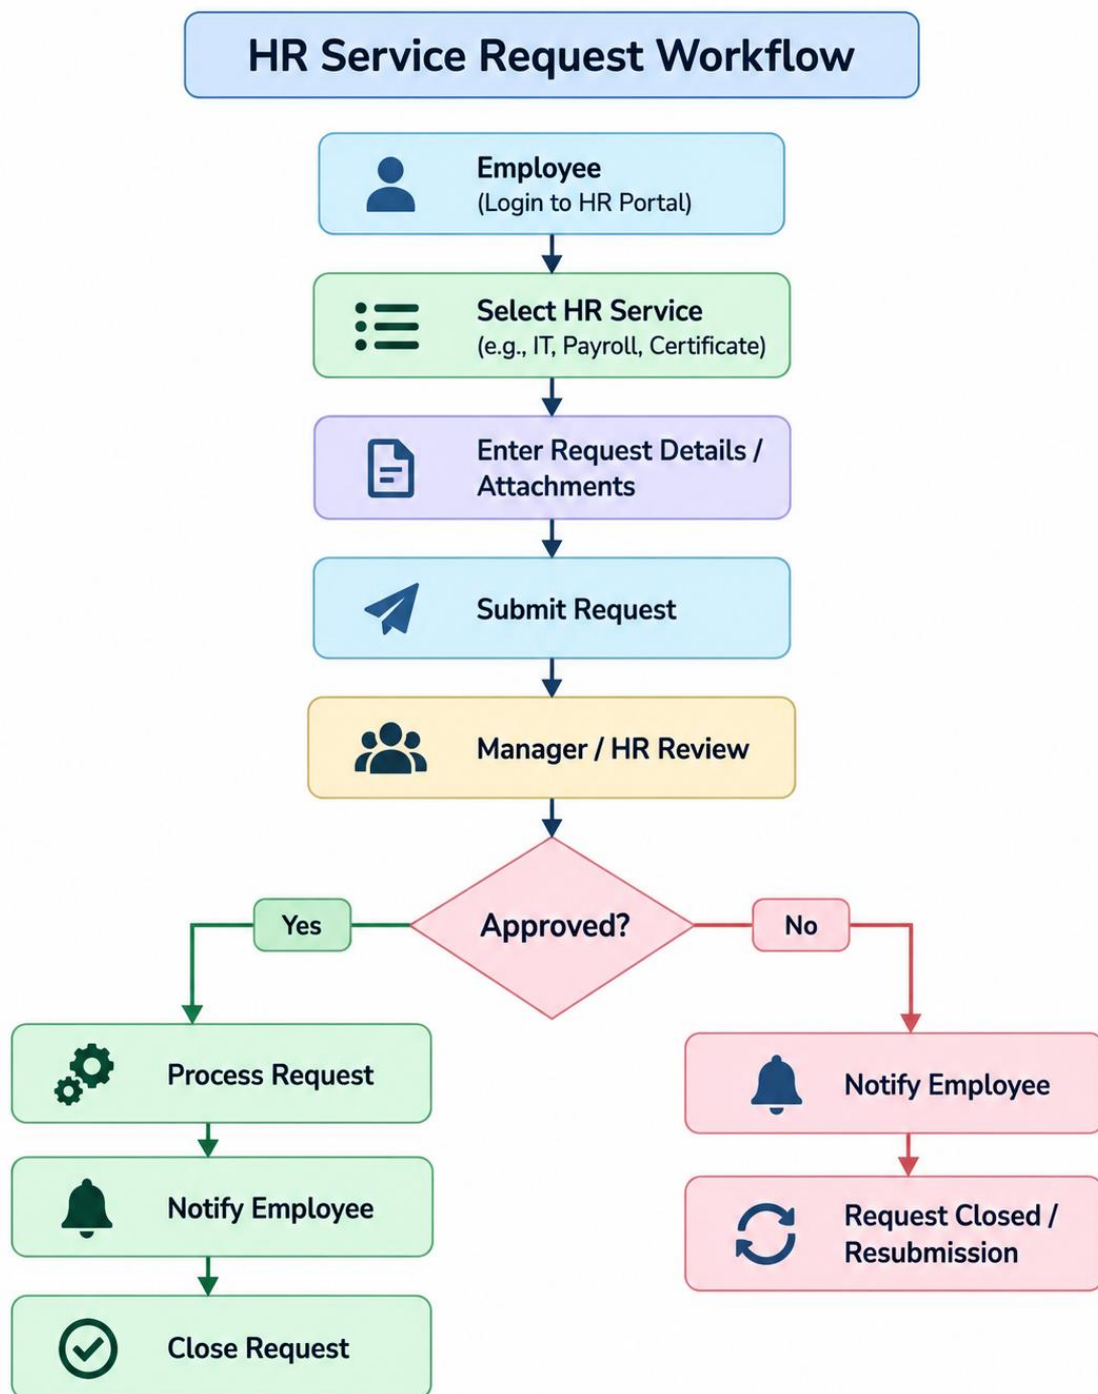

User Story:

As an employee, I want to raise an HR service request online so that I can track my request without repeated follow-ups.

Acceptance Criteria:

- Employee can select the request type.
- Employee can enter the request details and attachments.
- A request ID is generated after submission.
- Employee can track the request status.

8. HR Service Request Workflow:

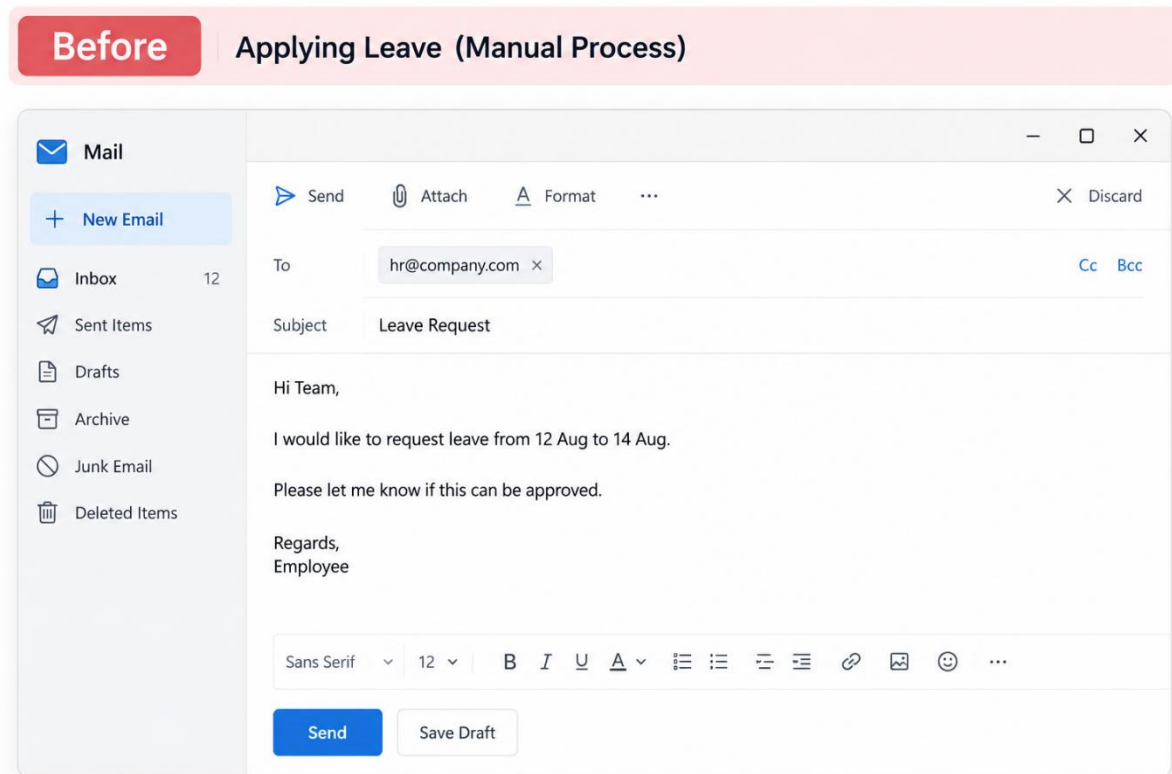

Key Business Rules

- Mandatory request details must be completed before submission.
- A request must have a unique Request ID.
- Approval is required for request types configured by HR.
- Employee must be able to view the current request status.
- Closed requests cannot be modified.

9. UX Improvement – Before vs After:

Before

Email / HR Desk → Submit Request → Manual Follow-up → HR Response

After

HR Portal → Self-Service Request → Approval Workflow → Status Tracking → Notification
